

Hazel May Bunney

1914 – 1938

Hazel, sixth child of Lawrence and Myrtle (Goodwater) Bunney, was born December 1, 1914 probably in Minot, North Dakota. During her young life, she achieves an award for her beautiful penmanship from Palmer School of Penmanship. Hazel could play the organ and she would often play religious songs for her parents and family.

On July 13, 1935, Hazel was taken to San Haven Hospital in North Dakota after she had a diagnosis of Tuberculosis. Her parents and her brother Danny would make monthly visits up to see her during the years that she spent there. Hazel passed away on Thursday, October 7, 1938 at 8:45 A.M.. She battled this illness for several years passing at age 23. Her friend (the other Hazel) also died from TB.
